

Admin Guide

Running programs on freshlog: students, hours, mentors, and your dual admin/mentor role.

1 The dashboard

Sign in with Google. The cross-program dashboard shows every program as a card with its students, mentors, and hours, plus a "Pending approvals" box when students are waiting. Click a program to open its full page.

2 Add & approve students

1. Open a program and paste one or more student emails to register them; they confirm their name and Telegram on first sign-in.
2. Students who signed up on their own appear under "Pending approvals" — approve them, then allocate their hours.

3 Allocate hours (per mentor)

1. Open a student ("Manage") and find "Hour allocations by mentor".
2. Enter the hours and a deadline (required), then click Set to replace or Add to top up.
3. For Master's Program students, also enter the Amount paid ($).

TIP Deadlines are enforced: once one passes, the unused hours expire and mentors can no longer log sessions against them. Extend the deadline to reopen them.

4 Register & assign mentors

1. Open the "Mentors" page.
2. Register a new mentor by email + name + the programs they work in, or click Edit on an existing mentor to change their program assignments.
3. Mentors set their own booking links after they're assigned.

TIP Any admin can assign any mentor — including other admins and yourself — to any program. The five admins are also mentors, so they appear in this list too.

5 Switch between Admin and Mentor

You are both an admin and a mentor. Use the Admin / Mentor toggle in the top-left of the header to switch dashboards.

In Mentor view you log your own sessions and set booking links like any mentor — once an admin (you or another) has assigned you to a program.

6 Reading the numbers

- Allotted — total hours granted.
- Completed — hours actually delivered.
- Missed — no-show hours (charged but not delivered).
- Expired — unused hours past their deadline.
- Remaining — hours still usable (allotted minus completed, missed, and expired).

7 Nothing happens silently

Every hour change, session, void, approval, and deadline event notifies the student (and the mentor where relevant) and lands in the bell. Allocation changes are also kept in an audit trail on the student's page.
