

Mentor Guide

How to sign in, share your booking link, and log sessions on freshlog.

1 Signing in

1. Open freshlog and click "Continue with Google".
2. Sign in with your @freshman.academy account. Enter your full name if asked.

TIP If your account is brand new you'll see "not yet assigned to a program." An admin needs to assign you before students and session logging appear — check back shortly after.

2 Set your booking link

1. On "My students", find the "Your booking links" panel.
2. Paste your calendar link (e.g. Calendly, starting with https://) for each program you're assigned to, and save.
3. Students in that program can now book you. Until you add a link they see "no booking link yet."

3 Log a completed session

1. Use the "Log a completed session" form on "My students" (or on a student's page).
2. Pick the student, enter the hours and the date, and optionally a task and note.
3. "Student was present" is ticked by default — untick it for a no-show.
4. Click "Log session".

TIP A no-show still draws the hours down, but it's tracked separately as "missed" so everyone can see it.

4 Deadlines

Each student's hours with you have a use-by date, shown in the "Use by" column and marked red once passed.

TIP After the deadline those hours expire — you can't log new sessions against them. Ask an admin to extend the deadline or allocate fresh hours.

5 Fix or void a session

On the "Sessions" page, click "Correct" on any active session to change its hours, date, task, note, or attendance — or to void it, which returns the hours to the student. The student is notified of every change.

6 Feedback & notifications
